RALLY FOR UNITY & HOPE

The trade union movement was built on the simple idea of uniting working people to stand stronger together, both at home and abroad. We are committed to fighting poverty, discrimination, racism, misogyny, homophobia, transphobia, Islamophobia, antisemitism, disablism, and fascism. In short, we stand for unity and hope.

We stand for solidarity, decent work, and the pursuit of better lives and social justice for all, regardless of background.

We are the antithesis of the far-right. Where they sow division, we stand for unity and bold solutions to the challenges faced by working communities, refusing to blame those who come here in search of a better life. Everyone deserves a home, care when ill, decent work, and safe, thriving communities.

In Ireland, 1 in 5 workers is a citizen of another country. They are essential to sectors like healthcare and construction and deserve to feel safe in their workplaces and communities.

Yet, in recent years, some have taken to our streets, communities, and workplaces to spread hate and division, seizing every opportunity to push messages of racism, misogyny, and bigotry. This has led to violent attacks in places like Belfast and Dublin, targeting workers in libraries, schools, transport, retail, and security.

A year ago, they weaponised the tragic stabbing of a child in Parnell Square to spread misinformation and incite hatred, culminating in disgraceful scenes in our city centre last November.

We stand with all victims of hate, resolute in our zero tolerance for misinformation and attempts to incite division and violence. Solidarity and unity are at the heart of who we are and what we fight for.

Join us for a workers rally of Solidarity, Hope and Inclusion.
